

SATISFACTION

Is what we all desire. To be sure, there are different ways of receiving satisfaction. If you buy Tea at our store we guarantee satisfaction, then again when you purchase from us and the price is right and the quality ticks your palate you get satisfaction. But if a man is holding a political job and some bright morning he wakes up and finds he got the G. B. the night before, then the fellow who was the cause of the removal in all probability gets some kind of satisfaction, but when the fellow who got the bounce gets back at him on election day, then that's what's known as sweet satisfaction. Well, did you ever hear the curbstone politician, the day of the election, swear by all that was powerful that he'd get satisfaction next election day—you bet you have, and those are just the fellows who never get satisfaction. Say, a lady came into our store the other day and wanted to know why she couldn't buy one of our beautiful Blue Dinner Sets, and we informed her there was no earthly reason as far as we knew. Well, she thought we never sold anything but Tea, Coffee, Spices and Butter, but when she was informed she could buy anything in our store for cash she immediately plunked down the collateral and to say she received satisfaction is putting it mildly. She was delighted not only with the Dinner Set but with the Tea and the Shopping Bag which we give with it at

Phelan's T Store.
